X x Numb. 1142.

The Daily Courant.

Tueſday, December 11. 1705.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Dec. 12.

Madrid, November 25.

PReparations are making for the Journey the King has reſolv'd to make to Arragon, to put himſelf at the Head of his Troops, and ſecure by his Preſence the Quiet of his Subjects, who have given, and continually give moſt ſignal Proofs of their Courage and Loyalty. 'Tis talk'd his Majeſty will ſet out the Beginning of next Month for Saragoſſa. Signior Aquaviva the Pope's Nuncio in ordinary, aſſoon as the King's Reſolution to go to the Army was declar'd, ſent all his Plate into the Treaſury to the value of above 1000 Marks, to help towards the Charge of the War, giving on this Occaſion an Example worthy of his Family, which has ſo often diſtinguiſh'd it ſelf in the Service of his Majeſty's Predeceſſors in the Throne. The Regiment of Spaniſh Guards is given to the Marquis d'Aytona; and Don Antonio del Valle Lieutenant Collonel of that Regiment, is made a Major-General, in Conſideration of his Services. Letters from Saragoſſa of the 20th of this Month, import that 600 of the Rebels advanc'd to plunder the Monaſtery of Santa Suſanna near Maella: Upon Advice of their March, Don Manuel de Blancas, and Don Miguel de Jrazaval, Captains in the Regiment of Saragoſſa, with 200 Men and 2 Companies of the Regiment of Collonel Montenegro, march'd againſt them, and aſſoon as the Rebels appear'd they were charg'd Sword in Hand, with ſo great Bravery, that they were put to Flight, after 50 of them were kill'd on the Spot and 25 taken Priſoners, among the latter their Leader. That Leader offer'd 1000 Piſtoles to him who took him, but could not obtain his Liberty. Don Miguel de Jrazaval was kill'd on this Occaſion, and is much lamented. All the Towns of the County of Ribagorza that had been oblig'd to yield to Force, return'd to their Obedience to the King aſſoon as they heard his Troops were approaching; and ſeveral other Places follow their Example, having before yielded only to ſave themſelves from being plunder'd, which the Places that were open could not otherwiſe avoid. 'Tis alſo advis'd, that in ſome Parts of Catalonia that border upon Arragon, the Inhabitants having renounc'd the late'd Obedience they had paid to the Archduke, have ſiez'd ſeveral Rebels or Miquelets, and puniſh'd them for their Crimes. We have an Account from the Camp near Gibraltar, that 30 Sail of the Enemy's Fleet were off that Place, that ſome of them having ſuffer'd by a Storm had in a ſhatter'd Condition turn'd into the Bay; that one of 40 Guns having run againſt the Old Mole had bulg'd; and that the others had put out to Sea to drive with the Wind. An Ordinance dated the 21ſt of this Month has been publiſh'd, by which his Majeſty commands that all Ships and Veſſels of the Catalonians, and thoſe that go in or out of the Ports of Catalonia, with Ammunition, Proviſions, Arms, or any other Succours for the Enemy, be treated hoſtily: His Majeſty likewiſe Orders, that all Catalonian Ships and Veſſels found in any Ports of Spain that are under his Obedience, or that ſhall be met at Sea by his Ships or Galleys, be ſiez'd and confiſcated.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated December 15.

Vienna, December 2. We have Advice from Presburg, Raab, and Comorra, that ſeveral Letters were come thither for Upper Hungary, which ſaid the Imperial Army attack'd Prince Ragotski's the 16th of laſt Month beyond Samblio. The Fight was firſt begun by 200 Foot who attack'd a certain Number of Malecontents which were poſted in a Wood to defend a Paſſage into Tranſilvania: thoſe 200 being repuls'd, 500 others were commanded on the ſame Attack, and were alſo repuls'd; then both Armies advancing to ſupport their reſpective Parties, a general Action enſued; the Iſſue of which was to the Advantage of the Imperialiſts; 7000 of the Malecontents being kill'd, and the reſt beaten out of the Field, with the Loſs of 3000 Imperialiſts, among them Count Schlick Commiſſary General, and about 100 other Officers. After the Fight, the Enemy poſted themſelves at the Paſs of Ilia near Clauſenburg, which had been before ſecur'd by General Forgatſch: All which News (ſay our Advices from the abovemention'd Places) is come to Count Berezeni. The Imperial Court has no direct Account of this Action; but it is generally believ'd. The Malecontents on this ſide the Danube make great Preparation for ſome Enterprize, probably to attack Totis or ſome other Place about Gran or Comorra; and a Body of their Troops are actually on the March.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated December 15.

Vienna, December 15. 'Tis reported that in the Battle near Samblio, moſt of the Malcontents Foot were cut off: On the ſide of the Impeialiſts, beſides Count Schlick, a Daniſh General Officer nam'd Gerſtorff, and the Count of Altham a Collonel, are ſaid to be kill'd. The Malecontents in lower Hungary have taken Simontorna, poſted a ſtrong Body of Men on the Iſland Schut, and laid Siege to Totis. The Prince of Swartſenberg has advanc'd 100000 Florins towards the Loan of a Million which the Emperor has deſir'd, the Prince of Lichtenſtein 100000 Rixdollars, and the Prince of Salms 25000 Florins.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated Dec. 15.

Dreſden, Dec. 4. We have Advice, that the Bavarian Rebels are headed by a Swediſh Officer nam'd Seefeld who was lately Governour of Kuſſtein; that they have 60 Pieces of Cannon, and ſufficient Store of Arms and Ammunition; part of which they had hid under Ground, and found the reſt in Braunau: They have taken the Caſtle of Ortenburg by Storm.

From the Amſterdam Gazette, dated December 15.

The Advices from the Danube of the 7th of this Month, import, that the revolted Bavarians have made themſelves Maſters of Scharding (in which were but 75 Soldiers) upon Terms of Capitulation; and that when they took Braunau, they us'd very ill Count Tettenbach who commanded in it, as they did likewiſe the other Officers of the Garriſon, who were made Priſoners of War: 'Tis ſaid the Counteſs of Tettenbach was by an Accident kill'd in the Tumult. Count Leuwenſtein, Adminiſtrator of Bavaria, varia, has ſent his Son to the Court of Vienna to ſollicit ſpeedy Succours; and ſome Deputies of the Circle of Swabia are gone to the Prince of Baden, to conſult with his Highneſs of means for redreſſing theſe Diſorders before they be ſpread further. Some Wirtemberg Troops are actually marching towards Bavaria; and 'tis reported Part of the Pruſſian Troops that were on their Way homeward, have receiv'd a Counter-Order, and are likewiſe to march to Bavaria. The Diet of Ratisbon has written to the Emperor, and to the Circles of Swabia and Franconia, and of the upper and lower Saxony, to deſire them to order ſome Troops to march for the Security of the ſaid Diet.

From the Amſterdam Courant, dated December 15.

Ratisbon, December 7. The Imperial Collonel Went is before Burchauſen; the revolted Bavarians that are in it have offer'd to capitulate, but he has refus'd to give them Terms unleſs they will deliver up to him their Ringleaders. Yeſterday came Advice, that Scharding ſurrendet'd to the Rebels the 4th Inſtant, that Major Buttner with his Garriſon were conducted to Paſſau; and that the Rebels are march'd to attack Straubingen.

Hague, December 15. Yeſterday at 5 a Clock in the Afternoon, the Duke of Marlborough and the Earl of Sunderland arriv'd here. The Treaty for 4000 Palatins to ſerve under Prince Eugene is concluded; and they will ſhortly march to Bavaria, to help to quell the Rebellion there, and thence proceed to Italy. Yeſterday the Imperial Miniſter, and thoſe of England, Sweden, Pruſſia, and Hanover, were in Conference with the States Deputies about the Affair of Lubeck, which is ſaid to be in a fair Way to be made up peaceably.

Yarmouth, Dec. 7. The 6 Men of War mention'd in my laſt are ſtill here, and with them a Fleet conſiſting upwards of 60 Sail bound for Holland. Yeſterday we had a very hard Gale of Wind in which the Portland, who is Commodore, loſt her Main-Maſt.

Deal, December 9. Having had very bad Weather, a laden Collier was forc'd aſhore and Bulged: Arriv'd the Hopewell ---------- Friend Maſter from Lisbon, but this Morning ſunk, and 10 Men and 1 Woman drowned, but the Maſter and 6 Men ſaved themſelves in a Boat; ſeveral Ships are driven out of the Downs, but I cannot yet give Particulars.
